2 Definitions

2.1 Licensee

Licensee is the contracting party, including his successor in rights, which receives a license for the Standard Software according to the terms and conditions set forth in this agreement.

2.2 Licensor

Licensor is the respective company of the SSI Schäfer-Group which delivers and licenses the Standard Software to the Licensee and therefore is the contracting party of the Licensee.

2.3 Standard Software

3 Subject Matter of the Agreement

Subject matter of the agreement is the delivery of the Standard Software in accordance with the product specification and the documentation.

Illustrations in e.g. the manual, test programmes, product and project descriptions are not guaranteed characteristics. Guaranteed characteristics require our explicit and written confirmation. Provided that no other agreements were made, the Standard Software is delivered in its current version at the time of de-livery.

Upon request we will provide the technical possibilities of use as well as terms and conditions of the pro-grammes (e.g. with respect to the data base, operating system, hardware and data carrier).

A separate agreement must be concluded for any service relating to the installation, configuration of and introduction to the Standard Software. Updates and/or upgrades of the Standard Software as well as help desk-services (support) require the conclusion of a separate service agreement. These services are not included in this agreement.

4 Extent of the Licenses

4.1 Copyrights / Licenses

The Standard Software is protected by copyright. We grant the non-exclusive, indefinite right to the cus-tomer to use the Standard Software for the purposes of his company, locally restricted to the location set forth in the offer and individually restricted to the amount of licenses acquired. #### 4.2 Types of Licenses

The following licenses can be acquired: (i) the WAMAS license for a location (WAMAS site license), (ii) the WAMAS full-use license, (iii) the WAMAS limited-use license for real operation, and (iv) the WAMAS test license for the trial operation and (v) the license for the non-productive operation (WAMAS non-productive license).
